Politicians Still Belleve No More Cases Will Be Pushed.

Attorney-General Jerry A Wernberg told an "Evening World" reporter in Brooklyn this morning that re adjetments against persons who had violated the election laws in Kings Courty would be asked for just as soon as t a trials of those now under indictneny were completed.

Mr. Wernberg also stated that by the last of the present week the prosecutors of the Gravesend offenders would decide whether to call an Extraordinary Whether to can an in the state of the frame of the rumor that there had been a deal effected between Deputy Attorney-General Edward M. through with trials now on the calendar.

Notwithstanding Mr. Wernberg's statement, however, there are a number of politicians who are of the opinion that further prosecutions will be dropped, and that there will be no Extraordinary Grand Jury for June.

Some time ago Mr. Shepard stated in court that a new jury would be called for May, but nothing further was said of it.

A reader of "The World," in a recent letter, charged that John Y. McKane was sent to prison for following the advice of "Boss" McLaughlin, who is on friendly terms with Mr. Shepard. The writer also states that Mr. McLaughlin has persuaded Mr. Shepard not to proceed further in the election cases. Nobody could be found to verify the statements. Mr. Wernberg said they were ridiculous.

To-morrow four of the Gravesend elec-ments. Mr. Wernberg said they were ridiculous.

To-morrow four of the Gravesend election inspectors who aided John Y. Mcane in defying the laws will be liberated from Raymond Street Jail. The men will have served their sentonce of twenty-nine days. They are W. H. Stewart, W. I. Tuthill, J. F. Conleft and Garrettson Morris. Three more will be liberated the following day, providing they pay the fine of $250. They are J. H. Cropsey, Nicholas J. Johnson and Harlang Crandall. The men have all had apeany time at the jail. They were assigned to rooms in the debtors prison and have had the freedom of the jail yard.

and have had the freedom of the jall yard.

The case of John Y. McKane, now serving six years in Sing Sing, will be appealed at the General Term of the Supreme Court, in Poughkeepsie, next month. Lawyer George W. Roderick is now at work on the papers.

From another source this morning it was learned that the reason a May Grand Jury was not called was because Lawyer Shepard and his associates have been trying to work up evidence against the persons who attempted to bribe the McKane and Sutherland juries. If the June Grand Jury is called, it is stated, the bribery cases will be placed before that body for consideration, which may result in the indictment of a well-known Republican-Democratic politician and contractor Vaccinators under the direction of Dr. Ricard visited St. Ann's School, Front and Gold streets, to-day, and are inoculating five hundred scholars. Eight hundred pupils in the School of the Assimption, York and Pearl streets, are also being vaccinated.

George Schrum, twenty-two years old, of 25 Metropolitan avenue, and Jacob Konrad, four, of 142 Johnson avenue, were found ill with small-pox to-day and were sent to the Hospital for Contagious Diseases.

Investigation into the death of the infant son of Charles W. Smith, of 75 Woodbine street, who died last Thursday, it is alleged, from the effects of vaccination, is being made. The bacteriologists of the Department are making a microscopic examination of the intestines. It is said that the result thus far indicates that the boy died from a condition arising from acute constipation. Should the fact be established that the boy died from the effects of impure virus, the boy's parents will probably sue the city for damages.

The case of the young man named Coe, who was removed from the home of the Underwood family, on Herkimer street, suffering with small-pox, has been fully investigated. The Department learned that the man with whom he roomed had recently recovered from an illness which the doctors said was chicken-pox, and they feared he might have had small-pox. He is a clerk in a prominent hotel. After a thorough in spection of his body, however, the doctors stated to-day that there was no reason to suppose that he had small-pox.
